

Italy just opened a FREE. WINE. FOUNTAIN. YES.

2 days ago comment share

While some may be hunting for the fountain of youth, the next best thing just opened in Italy: a fountain of free wine. The wine fountain opened in Abruzzo, Italy on Sunday to refresh pilgrims following the Cammino di San Tommaso. Its spout will be open 24/7, and the wine absolutely free. Dora Sarchese, a local vineyard, is supplying the red wine that will keep the fountain flowing. But don't get any wild ideas: The vineyard has already said that the fountain of wine is not a place for "drunkards," nor is it meant to be a "publicity stunt."

I'm supposed to write a Biography.....The spark notes version? I'm an avid Starbucks People Watcher and Professional Wingman who spends every day just trying to make 'em laugh (Singing in the Rain reference). Want more? I was born an raised in a small suburb northwest of Chicago (Bartlett). I'm the type of guy who breaks the awkward silence in an elevator just to make it more awkward and I LOVE music, I play drums and used to DJ (yes....wika wika DJ and BEFORE everyone else did it). I'm dancing or making weird sounds 98% of the time, OH and I'm currently learning to fly a plane, so....ya know...might be a good idea to keep your head up and watch out.Keep in touch!
